

NEW BOOKS IN SOCIAL SCIENCES LIBRARY

Prof. and PhD. NGUYỄN QUANG THUẬN (Editor, 2017), World economy and Vietnam economy 2016-2017: Promoting growth and development in a changing context, Publishing House of Social Sciences, Hanoi, 352 pages.

In 2016, in the context of slow and instable economic growth in the world, Vietnam economy continued to recover impressively. In general, Vietnam has done quite well the objective of maintaining macroeconomic stability but it still imposes many challenges. The book outlines the overview of the world economy in some countries and regions and some outstanding economic, social and environmental issues of Vietnam in 2016, the first months of 2017. The book consists of 3 parts.

Part 1 gives an overview of the world economy in terms of growth rate, global trade, global investment, exchange rates among key currencies, global public debt, global inflation, foreign exchange market, world economic outlook in 2017, at the same time, analyzes the economic development of some typical countries and regions such as the USA, Europe, Japan, China, Southeast Asia.

Part 2 analyzes the macroeconomic situation and some outstanding issues of Vietnam such as enterprise, labor market, development policy, fourth industrial revolution, environment and climate change response.

Part 3 provides policy recommendations to stabilize macroeconomics and control inflation, accelerate domestic reforms and international integration, improve competence in environmental management and response to natural disasters and climate change.

MQ.

PhD. NGUYỄN DUY THỤY (2016), Migration of ethnic minorities to the Central Highlands from 1975 to 2015 (monograph), Publishing House of Social Sciences, Hanoi, 346 pages.

This book on the migration of ethnic minorities to the Central Highlands from 1975 to 2015 aims to clarify the current situation of migration, sources of migration, causes and purposes of migration, role of the State and local authorities in migration...

The book consists of 4 chapters.

Chapter 1 gives an overview of the natural and social conditions in the Central Highlands and the factors affecting the migration of ethnic minorities.

Chapter 2 analyzes the current situation of free migration of ethnic minority people to the Central Highlands.

Chapter 3 explores the life of migrants and the impact of migration on the economy and society in the Central Highlands.

Chapter 4 gives some comments and recommendations related to free migration of ethnic minorities into the Central Highlands.

HOÀI PHÚC